

Previous editions of Com(parative) Syn(tax) Series

Spring 2026

- Benjamin Storme (LUCL): 'Au Liban', but 'en Iran': external sandhi in French prepositions at the syntax-phonology interface
- Lex Tavenier (Utrecht University): The syntax of Dutch (non-clausal) manner PPs
- Peter Katballe-Kristensen (Aarhus University): Adjectival Doubling Construction - 'I almost forgot the most importantest part'
- Hedde Zeijlstra (Georg-August-Universität Göttingen): No phases
- Myrte Vos (LUCL): A Visual World study of culmination in Hindi perfective verbs
- Marloes Oomen (University of Amsterdam): Negation in Dutch Sign Language

Autumn 2025

- Johannes Mursell (Goethe-University): Syntactic effects of negation — A'-interactions and more
- Isabelle Charnavel (University of Geneva): Sloppy indexicals are not fake
- Nino Grillo (University of York): Nested garden-path sentences and the syntax-prosody interface
- Martin Salzmann (University of Potsdam): Implications of Case (mis-)matches for theories of ATB-movement. Evidence from non-syncretic mismatches involving the genitive of negation in Russian

Spring 2025

- Miriam Schiele (University of Tübingen): Preposition Omission and Focus in German Fragments: A Case for a Q-Based Approach
- Melle Groen (University of Tübingen): Hypothetical comparison clauses in Dutch dialects
- Irina Morozova & Sjeff Barbiers (LUCL): Why does water have a blue colour? Modification of Nouns and the Possession of Properties
- Guglielmo Cinque (Ca' Foscari University of Venice): Four types of Internal Merge and the locus of Linearization
- Joanna Wall (Universität des Saarlandes): Towards a label-less grammar: Eradicating labels from the grammar
- Paula Fenger (Leipzig University): Splitting the imperative: what prohibitives tell us about the morpho-syntax of imperatives and negation
- Stephanie Solt (ZAS Berlin): On the source of polarity (in)sensitivity in the domain of degree modifiers

Autumn 2024

- Jesús Olguín Martínez (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin): Counterfactuality in typological perspective: Irrealis markers, blocking effects, and theoretical implications
- Gert-Jan Schoenmakers (UU): An experimental investigation of syntactic and discourse-processing claims about filler-gap dependencies: Adjunct islands and parasitic gaps
- Jenneke van der Wal (LUCL): Preverbal focus in Kĩtharaka revisited
- Fábio Bonfim Duarte (Federal University of Minas Gerais): Head-finality, Predicate Fronting and Spell-out Domains
- Richard S. Kayne (NYU): The DP-Internal Origin of Datives
- Thomas Grano (Indiana University): Size/flavor correlations in the grammar of attitudes and modals

Spring 2024

- Malte Koot (LUCL): The internal and external syntax of genoeg ('enough')
- Kyle Jerro (University of Essex): Discourse sensitivity in argument realization
- Karen De Clercq (CNRS): The internal structure of sentential negation: A view from suppletion
- George Walkden (University of Konstanz): Adult language acquisition and syntactic change
- Jens Fleischhauer (Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf): 'My mother', 'Your father': Suppletive kinship terms in African languages
- Stéphane Térosier (LUCL): Common ground management and its morphosyntactic reflexes in Martinican Creole wh-questions
- Bridget Copley (CNRS/Université Paris 8): Causal theory as the "B side" of modal theory: The English progressive as case study
- Yu-Yin Hsu (The Hong Kong Polytechnic University): Interaction of syntax and information structure: Focus-driven T-to-C movement of modal auxiliaries

Autumn 2023

- Sjef Barbiers & Irina Morozova (LUCL): How and why ONE is different
- Mieke Slim (Max Planck Institute Nijmegen): Are all, every and each all the same? The trajectory of universality in the development of English universal quantifiers
- Luciana Sanchez Mendes (Universidade Federal Fluminense, CNPq): Expressive interpretation of exclamative indefinites in Brazilian Portuguese and Rioplatense Spanish
- Danfeng Wu (University of Oxford): Allomorphy of 'One' and 'Two' in Mandarin Chinese
- Elise Newman (MIT): When wh-phrases are their own interveners
- Thom Westveer (UvA): Partitive constructions meet gender agreement: Gender agreement mismatches in French and German partitives

Spring 2023

- Elisabeth J. Kerr (LUCL): Tunen syntax within a structural typology of Aux-O-V word orders

- Tamirand Nnena de Lisser (University of Guyana): The Three Phases of Early Missing Subjects: Evidence from Creole Language Acquisition
- Charlotte Sant (Arctic University of Norway): Comparing apples and oranges: What grinding & portioning can tell us about gender and atonicity
- Iva Kovač (Universität Wien): Dissecting habituality: The Croatian know and its kin
- Molly Rolf (University of Konstanz): The functional load shift from case to adposition: the role of L2-difficulty
- Claudia Pañeda (University of the Basque Country): Wh-island effects are similar in English and Spanish
- Anikó Lipták & Crit Cremers (LUCL): Left node not raising: Word part ellipsis revisited

Autumn 2022

- Esther Ruigendijk (Carl von Ossietzky Universität Oldenburg): Pronoun interpretation and processing in Dutch and German
- Romane Pedro (Nantes Université): The impact of the French wh-in-situ option in the acquisition of L2 English questions: An analysis of transfer
- Marijke De Belder (Universiteit Utrecht): Dutch primary compounding: towards a new inventory
- Zhen Li (LUCL): Word order, information structure and agreement in Teke (Bantu B70)
- Leonel Tadjó Fongang (Universität Leipzig): Towards a Unified Theory for Noun Class Agreement in Grassfields Bantu

Spring 2022

- Matthijs Westera (LUCL): What are questions? An English-centered, pragmatics & prosody-based perspective
- Kristel Doreleijers (Tilburg University/Meertens Institute) & Marjo van Koppen (Utrecht University/Meertens Institute): 'New' dialect grammar across borders: Brabantish hyperdialectisms at the interface of sociolinguistic enregisterment and focus marking
- Justin Case (University of Ottawa/LUCL): Constructing the Siona nominal from the bottom up: a Minimalist perspective
- Jutta Hartmann (University of Bielefeld): Syntax-Information-Structure Interaction: Data and analysis
- Giuseppe Rugna (University of Florence/LUCL): The morphosyntax of wh-paradigms and wh-copying
- Prerna Nadathur (Universität Konstanz): Modeling progress: event types, causal models, and the imperfective parado

Autumn 2021

- James Baker (LUCL): Parametric Comparison in the Clausal Domain
- Matthew Tyler (University of Cambridge): Switch-reference and big PRO

- Marjo van Koppen (Utrecht University/UiL-OTS and Meertens Institute): Negation in the work of De Ruyter and Hooft: Negation in 17th century Dutch intra-speaker variation
- Ur Shlonsky (University of Geneva): Focus preposing and its role in Bantu inversion, inverted copular sentences and contrastive ellipsis
- Halima Husić (Ruhr-Universität Bochum): Individuation and Countability of Event Nominals
- Michael Diercks (Pomona College): Building Bridges: Developmental Minimalist Syntax

Spring 2021

- Thomas McFadden (ZAS, Berlin) & Sandhya Sundaresan (U. of Göttingen): Unifying species of C-agreement
- Zoë Belk, Ad Neeleman and Joy Philip (UCL): What divides, and what unites, right-node raising
- Martina Wiltschko (Universitat Pompeu Fabra): The grammar of knowing: A lesson from cross-linguistic patterns for markedness
- Fabienne Martin (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin): Requiem for a Theme
- Zhaole Yang & Hang Cheng (LUCL): On Mandarin propositional assertion sentences with shì and d

Autumn 2020

- Maria Kouneli (Leipzig): The causative alternation in Kipsigis
- András Bárány (Bielefeld/LUCL) and Jenneke van der Wal (LUCL): We don't Agree (only) upwards
- Melissa Farasyn (Ghent): Nature and origin of v>2 in the French Flemish dialects: archaisms and novelties in a split left periphery
- Yining Nie (NYU): Two ways of forming causatives and their implications for recursion
- Alexandra Vydrina (CNRS): From addressee-oriented deixis to a reflexive: the case of the pronoun ì in Kakabe (Mande)
- Richard Stockwell (Oxford University): Contrast and Verb Phrase Ellipsis: Triviality, Symmetry, and Competition
- Olaf Koenenman (Radboud University) & Hedde Zijlstra (Georg-August-Universität Göttingen): Deriving pro drop in a non-paradigmatic way

Spring 2020

- Carlos Muñoz Pérez (PUCC) & Matias Verdecchia (UBA): Predicate doubling in Spanish: On how discourse may mimic syntactic copying
- Loes Koring (LUCL): Disjointness in Child Language
- Georg Höhn (Georg-August-Universität Göttingen): Demonstratives with participant readings

- Boban Arsenijević (University of Graz): Deriving lexical categories: valued and unvalued classifiers and classifier-relativization
- Zorica Puskar (ZAS): Multiple Challenges of Multiple Agreement
- Patricia Cabredo Hofherr (CNRS & U. Paris-8): Two superiority comparatives in Haitian Creole
- Marcel den Dikken (Research Institute for Linguistics, Hungarian Academy of Sciences): Unmatched and unparalleled: Voice mismatches in ellipsis — Analysis and theoretical implications
- Nikos Angelopoulos (CRISSP, KU Leuven): Complementizers as probes
- Sjef Barbiers and Astrid van Alem (LUCL): Poor weak 't (it) and the syntax of pronominal clefts

Autumn 2019

- Astrid van Alem (LUCL): Complementizer agreement is clitic doubling: evidence from intervention effects
- Allen Asiiimwe (Makerere/Leiden) & Jenneke van der Wal (Leiden): Rukiga augments are like Greek
- András Bárány (LUCL): Syntactic and typological aspects of a typological gap in ditransitive constructions
- Elisabeth Kerr (LUCL): Clefts in Tunen: A biclausal account
- Víctor Acedo-Matellán (Oxford University): On verbal elasticity: the stative-eventive alternation in perception verbs in Germanic
- Kyle Johnson (UMass): Rehabilitating Reinhart and Reuland

Spring 2019

- Myrthe Bergstra (Utrecht University): Micro-variation, contact and change: the absenitive in Frisian and Dutch
- Katharina Hartmann (Goethe-Universität Frankfurt am Main): The interpretation of syntactic focus variation
- Gurmeet Kaur (Georg-August-Universität Göttingen): Not all imperatives have a Jussive head- Insights from allocutive imperatives
- Guido Vanden Wyngaerd (KU Leuven): Phonology-Free Syntax
- Jenneke van der Wal (LUCL) (Joint work with Zuzanna Fuchs): *Gender on n in Bantu DP structure: from root-derived nominals to locatives*

Autumn 2018

- Hedde Zeijlstra (Georg-August-Universität Göttingen): On Merge and Labeling
- Jan Casalicchio (Utrecht University): The subject/object asymmetry and the origin of Romance clitics
- Deniz Tat (LUCL): Can zero-derived nominals project an argument structure?

- Siavash Rafiee Rad (LUCL): The Semantics of Ellipsis in Persian Complex Predicates
- Caitlin Meyer (University of Amsterdam): Rule and order: using structure to acquire ordinal numerals