

MENU Teaching workshops

Which workshops would be of interest to your teaching?

During the academic year 24-25, the Humanities faculty offers several workshops for lecturers.

You can choose 1 or more of the workshops below.

Intervision

Discussing pedagogical issues.

Intervision involves working on pedagogical issues that participants bring from their own teaching. Together they explore a range of solutions to issues such as "How can I get all my students to participate actively in class?" or "How do I deal with students who don't prepare for lectures?"

Active learning strategies

Get students actively involved.

In this workshop we discuss ways of activating students on the basis of case studies provided by the participants. We will discuss dilemmas such as: How to make sure that students come to class prepared? How to engage all students in the discussion? And how do you make students responsible for their own learning process?
