Interim Research Assessment Framework (RAF)-round October 2019
Registration for research programmes for 2019

This form concerns the Interim Research Assessment Framework (RAF)-round of October 2019 enabling application to become a fellow of one of the Faculty’s Research Programmes. The next general round will be held in January 2022. We would like to invite you to apply for a fellowship in one or a maximum two research programmes for this year 2019.

If you choose to apply for two programmes, the Research Board requests that you state which percentage of your research time (as of 2017 38% for a fulltime appointment) will be spent on each programme, and indicate for each programme what your expected output will be.

The Program Coordinator (PC) advises on admission to a research programme as fellow on the basis of a submitted research plan which is as detailed as possible. Applicants are also invited to attach an overview of their past performance and output over 2017-2018.

Upcoming period (2019)

Focus of research (attachment in A4 format or fill in this form)

Admission to a research programme is advised by the Program Coordinator on the basis of a submitted research plan which is as detailed as possible.

A research proposal should include:

(a) research questions and the relation to the research programme or how these fit in the programme (minimum 500 words);
(b) research method, including data management plan if applicable / appropriate;
(c) expected output;
(d) publication strategy (which publications fora are targeted, what type of publications are envisaged);
(e) funding opportunities other than 1st flow (government) funding;
(f) possible collaborations.

Publications

For admission to the program the Program Coordinator may also look at the content and volume of the past publication record. Therefore, you are invited to list your (most important) scientific and professional publications over the past two years.

Request to give priority to the scientific publications and to submit professional publications only if needed.

Scientific publications:

- 2018
- 2017
