Overview

The conference aims to promote academic reflection on the most recent debates within the field of law. It seeks to create a space for dialogue, especially among doctoral students, to address this issue from various areas of specialization.

The plenary conference will focus on the theme of "Law and Social Change," exploring the tensions and challenges that arise in legal practice concerning gender, the environment, and the complexities posed by artificial intelligence.

The event will be conducted in a hybrid format, allowing for both virtual and in-person participation for paper presentations and attendance at the plenary conference. Additionally, in-person attendees will have the opportunity to participate in a research methodology workshop.
