

SPRING SYMPOSIUM

PROGRAM 14 April 2022 12.00 – 17.00 hours
Gorlaeus lecture hall 1 (lectures) – Atrium (poster session)

Chair: Prof. dr. Micha Drukker

- 12.00 Opening
- 12.05 Keynote speaker: Prof. Dan Peer - Tel Aviv University
'RNA therapeutics is going beyond the liver: from Gene Silencing to Gene Editing'
- 12.50 Farideh Hosseinkhani - LACDR
'The contribution of gut bacterial metabolites in the human health state'
- 13.05 Alexander Bakker - LIC
'Discovery of oxadiazolones as a novel class of MRSA antibiotics'
- 13.20 Break
- 13.35 Mohammed Saleh - LACDR
'LeiCNS-PK3.0: a framework leveraging multiscale data for accurate brain PK predictions'
- 13.50 Wieke Grievink - CHDR
'Vaccination with pneumococcal vaccine Prevenar-13 does not increase oxLDL-specific IgM levels, which are decreased in coronary artery disease patients'
- 14.05 Bert Beerkens - LACDR
'Investigating the adenosine receptors with covalent chemical probes'
- 14.20 Iris Lafeber – LUMC/KFT
'The journey of 3D-printed tablets: from product development to clinical application of sildenafil'
- 14.35 Break
- 14.50 Matthijs Vlasveld – LACDR
'A weight of evidence approach for early assessment of drug-induced liver injury liabilities of FDA approved drugs'
- 15.05 Jannik Rousel - CHDR
'High resolution phenotyping of seborrheic dermatitis in early stage clinical development: skin barrier, microbiome and inflammation'
- 15.20 Virginia Smit - LACDR
'Age-associated immunity in cardiovascular disease'
- 15.35 Walk to Atrium – Gorlaeus building
- 15.45 Poster session in Atrium
- 16.45 Presentation of the best PhD presenter and the winners of the poster competition
- 17.00 Closing and drinks

Universiteit
Leiden
The Netherlands

LACDR

BFV • BPS