KNAW Research Funding Consultation (multidisciplinary)

Science policy decisions have a major impact on us all. However, it is not always clear who makes these decisions and whether these decisions have been made after broad consultation with the community. How can we include the voices of community members? And in doing so, how can we move from polarized stance-taking to a more nuanced discussion, acknowledging the dilemmas a policymaker may face?

By means of the Research Funding Consultation project, The Young Academy is experimenting with a collective consultation.

KNAW invites researchers to join and have a say.

NWO: New SSH Open Competition format gives researchers more opportunities

The SSH Open Competition is ready for a makeover. NWO is thus responding to the need of the research field in the Social Sciences and Humanities to give this instrument more variety in terms of grant amounts and target groups. The NWO Domain Board Social Sciences and Humanities (SSH) has decided to expand the opportunities for researchers in the Open Competition and was advised in this endeavour by the six roundtables from the Social Sciences and Humanities domain.

Externe Onderzoeksfinanciering: Beoordeel onderzoeksvorstellen zelf

Het voorbereiden, schrijven en indienen van subsidieaanvragen voor onderzoek is een intensief proces en een enorme uitdaging; de competitie is hoog, de succeskans helaas vaak laag. Om (meer) inzicht te krijgen in de vereisten die aan succesvolle subsidieaanvragen worden gesteld, kan het interessant zijn zelf deel te nemen aan de evaluatie van onderzoeksvorstellen.

NWO, de Europese Commissie en de European Cooperation in Science and Technology zijn bijvoorbeeld op zoek naar experts voor beoordelingscommissies en/ of ten behoeve van evaluatie van subsidieaanvragen.
